Place: Haller Auditorium, Baltzerstrasse 1

Dr. Mordecai Ogada

Dr. Mordecai Ogada is a Kenyan carnivore ecologist and conservation policy scholar with over 20 years' experience in Kenya and other parts of Africa, mainly on human-wildlife conflict issues. His current work focuses on the challenges of racism and other prejudices in the global conservation arena. He is also researching and writing on the ethical challenges of the global climate movement, including the protection of the ownership rights of indigenous people in the Global South over their natural heritage.
